

CG JUNG S.O.C.I.E.T.Y. of Colorado Springs

The Interweaving of Religion, Spirituality, and JUNGIAN PSYCHOLOGY

Lecture by Kathryn Kuisle, Jungian Analyst

Friday, February 10, 2012, at 7pm in the Unity Church of the Rockies, 1945 Mesa Rd entry: $8. for members, $12. for non-members

Many people search for meaning, for something deeper in their lives, something that enriches their inner lives. Carl Jung described this longing as springing from the “religious instinct” in every human psyche. His expansive study of the world’s religions is an aspect of his deep interest in the underlying spirituality in all humans. This lecture will address this innate longing of the human person by exploring how religion, spirituality and Jungian psychology interweave and support the soul’s quest for wholeness.

Kathryn Kuisle, PhD, is a Jungian Analyst with a private practice in Colorado Springs.

She is a graduate of the CG Jung Institute in Zurich and holds a PhD in analytical psychology from Union Institute and University of Cincinnati. She teaches at the CG Jung Institute in Denver and is on the staff of the Jung Conference on Spirituality and Psychology in Einsiedeln, Switzerland. She is also an adjunct faculty member for Regis University, in the Masters in Counseling program. Dr. Kuisle offers on-going groups on dreams and fairy tales. You can contact her at her website, www.kkuisle.com info: see our website at www.csjung.org for further information, or contact us at info@csjung.org